Reuther Optimistic, But Repeats Wednesday Deadline Warning

DETROIT (AP) — Declaring he is still optimistic, Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther said today if agreement on a new contract is not reached with Chrysler Corp. by midnight Wednesday there "definitely will be a national strike."

"We will not make an extension," Reuther told newsmen as he emerged from a 14-hour bargaining session shortly after midnight, longest session since Reuther signaled the start of showdown bargaining by joining talks Saturday.

Reuther and John Leary, chief negotiator for the No. 3 automaker, said some progress had been made in fitting the recent settlement at Ford Motor Co. to the more complex Chrysler situation.

But Reuther said there had been "no movement at all" on resolving one of the central issues — wage parity for Canadian auto workers.

Reuther emphasized, however, that the parity question was only one of several issues that made rewriting the Ford pact difficult, although Chrysler has agreed in principal to most of its provisions which hiked by roughly $1 an hour the average Ford workers $4.70 in wages and benefits.

Leary and Reuther also agreed that today's session would be a long one, probably extending far past midnight.

Despite a generally relaxed atmosphere surrounding talks, and Reuther's jaunty, smiling air, his comments added to growing indications that Chrysler could suffer some production loss unless settlement is reached well before the deadline.

Local strikes over at-the-plant agreements are a traditional hazard in the sprawling industry at national contract bargaining time.

Such disputes have barred Ford from returning to full production although UAW members there ratified their national contract two weeks ago after a 46-day strike.

Only three local agreements remain to be negotiated at Ford plants across the country and the company plans to be back in full production by week's end.

A tentative early morning agreement was reached at the firm's largest assembly plant about 25 miles northwest of Detroit today. The 5,300 workers at the Wixom assembly plant are to vote on a local pact Wednesday morning.

About 8,700 Ford workers are still without local agreements in Lorain, Ohio; Dallas, Tex. and St. Louis. Meanwhile, a Ford spokesman said seven more assembly plants will resume operation today.

Chrysler reached agreement with the union on a national contract in 1964 only 25 minutes before a strike deadline. Local contracts were extended on day-to-day basis and there was no production loss by the small percentage of locals which sometimes don't get the word or ignore it.

A union source pointed out Monday night that the situation is different this year.

The union is seeking one more big benefit that it didn't get at Ford — the parity for 12,000 Canadian workers who make about 40 cents an hour less than their American counterparts.

South Koreans Kill 113 Reds In Lowland Battle

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting was reported today in South Vietnam's jungled central highlands and along the coastal lowlands. It could signal the start of new dry season offensives by the Communists in the two areas.

Troops of South Korea's White Horse Division reported killing 113 North Vietnamese in fighting Monday and today near the division base headquarters in the lowlands 205 miles northeast of Saigon. Korean casualties were reported light.

In a series of sharp clashes in the central highlands 300 miles north of Saigon, 20 American paratroopers and 18 North Vietnamese troops were killed. The units of the U.S. 173d Airborne Brigade also reported 27 men wounded.

As the ground fighting picked up, U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers took advantage of a break in the northeast monsoons Monday and flew through heavy Communist defenses to give North Vietnam's heartland its heaviest pounding in a week.

The American raiders attacked the sprawling Gia Thuong military storage area three miles northeast of the center of Hanoi for the first time in the war, shot down two MIG-17s during a strike on the Kep airfield 38 miles northeast of the capital, and attacked a vehicle repair plant nine miles north of Hanoi and the Hanoi transformer station for the first time since last May.

Although Hanoi claimed five U.S. planes were shot down, the U.S. Command reported only one loss, an F105 Thunderchief it said was brought down by ground fire northwest of Hanoi. The pilot was listed as missing in action. It was the 727th American combat plane officially reported lost over the North.

In the coastal lowlands, a Korean spokesman said, an estimated 300 North Vietnamese army regulars moved out of a hideout in the Ho Neo mountains and had been threatening Korean units for the last two weeks.

The spokesman said Korean forces pursued the Communists and caught up with them near two villages only about two miles from the Koreans' base area.

Fighting which broke out continued until about noon today, the spokesman said.

Soviets Veto Plan For Mideast Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Western hopes that a compromise resolution circulated by the United States might break the Middle East stalemate in the United Nations were dimmed today by Soviet rejection of the proposal.

Soviet sources said the American plan, which calls for positive action by both Israel and the Arabs, was unacceptable because it gives the Arabs less support than an earlier draft proposed by six African, Asian and Latin American members of the Security Council.

It could not be learned whether the United States would modify the wording of its draft to meet Communist objections or withdraw it. A British spokesman predicted that in any case it was a "fair bet" that the 15-nation council would meet on the Arab-Israeli conflict before the week is over.

Sought Compromise

Informed sources said the American plan, like that of the six nations, calls on Israel to withdraw from Arab soil seized in the June war. But it also seeks action by the Arabs to end their 19-year-old state of belligerency against Israel.

The informants said the draft also authorized sending a U.N. representative to the Middle East to try to work out a settlement but did not bind him to specific instructions.

The United States began circulating its plan after the big powers had held weekend consultations with Arab and Israeli leaders.

The major powers took over the problem after the 10 nonpermanent members of the council reported Friday that they had failed to agree among themselves on council action.

Weekend Consultations

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was reported to have consulted on Saturday and Sunday with Lord Caradon, Britain's U.N. representative; King Hussein of Jordan, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad of Jordan.

Eban flew to London and met with British Foreign Secretary George Brown. He was due back in New York today.

Attempts by the 10 nonpermanent council members broke down after they tried to reach a compromise between two rival plans.

One, drawn up by Argentina, Brazil, Ethiopia, India, Mali and Nigeria, advanced specific principles for a settlement and ordered the U.N. representative to work out a solution along those lines.

The other, put forward by Canada and Denmark, also called for a U.N. representative, but his assignment was couched in terms that the Arabs found too vague for their liking.

Israel meanwhile wrote the Security Council reporting eight attacks between Oct. 24 and Nov. 5 by "armed marauders" from Jordan and charged the Jordanian government was giving active support and aid to the Arab saboteurs.

Surveyor And Chemistry Kit Race To Moon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Surveyor 6 spacecraft raced today toward an intended soft-landing in a rugged area almost smack in the middle of the moon's visible face.

Its planned touchdown point in the Sinus Medii (Central Bay), considered a prime astronaut landing site despite its roughness, Surveyor 6 carried a television camera and a small automatic chemistry set to analyze the lunar soil.

The 2,223-pound mechanical marvel soared into space from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 9 a.m. EST today aboard an Atlas-Centaur rocket. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported early phases of the flight were near-perfect as Surveyor 6 started its 65-hour, 231,416-mile journey. Its sensors locked on the sun for guidance.

Launch officials reported tracking data showed the rocket had been very accurate in sending the spider-shaped craft into space and that only a minor firing of its midcourse motor later today would be required to place it on target.

If all goes well, the Surveyor will reach the moon about 7 p.m. Thursday.

The launching was the second in a busy space week for the United States. On Sunday, the third applications technology satellite was fired from the cape into a stationary orbit over Brazil where it is to conduct experiments in communications, navigation and weather study.

An East Coast-West Coast doubleheader is scheduled Thursday. The first Saturn 5 super-rocket, being groomed to boost astronauts to the moon, is set for liftoff from the cape at 7 a.m., and the Essa 6 weather satellite is to rocket into space at 12:37 p.m. from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Six Accused Of Attempt To Kill Police Informer

FLINT (AP) — Police and federal authorities arrested 27 persons in a coordinated series of raids in Michigan and Pennsylvania Monday night and charged them with crimes ranging from gambling and pandering to conspiring to commit murder.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley said warrants for another 11 persons have been issued. He said 26 of Monday night's 27 arrests were made in Michigan and one in the Erie, Pa., area.

Some of those arrested were charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws in what Kelley said was a $100,000-a-week football betting ring.

The raids by local and state police, working with federal law agencies, climaxed a three-month investigation which started when Genesee County Prosecutor Robert Leonard discovered the group was attempting to move into the Flint area, Kelley said.

"They were making an attempt to infiltrate the Flint area and set up an operation—making inquiries and trying to make contracts," Leonard said, "and I hope we've nipped it in the bud."

Murder Conspiracy

Police in Flint, Livonia, Detroit, Ohio and Pennsylvania, as well as Kelley's office, the FBI, the U.S. attorney's office and Internal Revenue Service, were involved in the investigation, Kelley told a news conference today.

Six of the persons arrested were charged with conspiracy to commit murder. In five of the warrants, the victim was identified as Charles Thomas, described as an informant working with them to break up a counterfeiting ring.

Thomas, 49, shot twice in a Pittsburgh area motel, has identified Loren Jolly as the man who shot him. Jolly was arrested Oct. 4 and is reportedly being held in a Cleveland jail.

Police Lt. Robert Bulloch of the Detroit police department's racket squad said the football betting ring was taking bets on both professional and college games.

The eight persons arrested in the Detroit area were among 17 sought on search warrants charging conspiracy to violate state gaming laws.

Gaming Charge

The Detroit office of the FBI this morning announced the arrests of two Flint men charged with violation of interstate gaming laws.

The men, Joseph Giacalone, 28 and John Juarez, 23, had hearings Monday night in Flint before U.S. Commissioner Warren F. Krapohl.

Giacalone is charged with taking a stolen vehicle from Cleveland to Flint with betting equipment. He was held on $12,500 bond.

Juarez is also charged with interstate transportation of gambling equipment and was held without bond until his hearing is resumed Nov. 11.

The FBI said gambling charges against both men grew out of the transportation of football pool cards from Erie, Pa., to Flint for the purpose of promoting a football card wagering business.

The FBI reports two other arrests made Monday night in connection with the case, these in Erie.

Arrested were Ceasar Montevecchio and Michael J. Naggio. Aiding the FBI were Pennsylvania State Highway Patrolmen and the Erie Police Department.

The men were charged with conspiracy to violate laws covering interstate transportation of gambling equipment.

Romney Foreign Trip Is 'Private'

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney has changed his plans for two trips abroad and now plans to make one -- starting around Dec. 7—which will take him from Western Europe to Southeast Asia.

Announcing plans for the single, consolidated trip Monday, Romney said it would be a "private" affair and although he planned to meet the leaders of foreign governments he would make no speeches and hold no news conferences.

The trip will come about two weeks after Romney announces Nov. 18 whether he will seek the Republican presidential nomination. The governor has said he will declare his intentions that day in either Detroit or Lansing.

Quizzed For Hour

In St. Paul, Minn. Monday night Romney said that questions remaining before he decides whether he will seek the Republican presidential nomination, "don't involve public concern or national interest."

Romney was quizzed for an hour by newsmen before a sell-out crowd of 1,300, who paid $5 each to attend. Romney gave no set speech.

He said he considered his Mormon religion a "great asset" to a candidate and was applauded loudly.

Trip Plan Changed

In two other developments Monday in the Romney presidential drive, the Detroit Auto Dealers Association offered the governor a chance to make his Nov. 18 announcement at the opening of the Detroit auto show in Cobo Hall and the Detroit News again called for its one-time favorite to step out of the presidential sweepstakes.

"This rescheduling is necessary to allow the most efficient allocation of my time between

Little New In Red Arms Parade

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union climaxed its celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution today with its semiannual parade of military might through Red Square. But Western military experts spotted only four new weapons—all missiles—in the hour-long parade.

The Western experts said the new weapons included one huge intercontinental rocket at the end of the review before Lenin's tomb, one intermediate or medium-range missile, one ground-to-ground tactical missile and one navy missile.

Soviet commentators used the word "new" only once, saying a three-stage intercontinental rocket was powered by a "new, highly efficient type of propellant." But no details were given.

One intercontinental rocket displayed could be "used for orbital purposes," Moscow Television said, but such a rocket with claimed orbital capacity had been displayed in the May Day parade in 1965. The assertion was made then, and repeated today, that such rockets cannot be shot down.

The official accounts threw no light on whether the Soviet Union is testing an orbital bomb system, as U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Friday it is. During the two and a half years since the unveiling of the orbital rocket, there has been no mention here of its being tried out in any way.

Official accounts of the parade today repeated the boast that the mammoth Soviet rockets—the biggest is about 115 feet long—"can deliver nuclear warheads of tremendous power." It was also claimed that "no other army in the world has such warheads."

Moscow Television's commentator called attention to "an unusual special warhead" on one rocket which he said could destroy a large group of enemy planes in the air at a great distance from the Soviet Union.

The parade was preceded by the usual address from the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Andrei A. Grechko. As usual he attacked the United States for its part in the Vietnam war, but in general his tone was milder than usual. He also made one accusation of aggression against Israel, but said nothing about Communist China.

Action Agencies Assist 24,238

A total of 24,238 individuals in the Upper Peninsula have received assistance from six Community Action Agencies serving the area, according to Lee Meyers, Escanaba, executive director of the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress (UPCAP).

Meyers told CAA directors at a recent meeting that his report covered the two-year period ending Sept. 30.

The figure does not include the fact that many times numerous conferences have been held with individual clients nor does it note that usually the CAAs refer each client to several public and private agencies before assistance is obtained, Meyers said.

In one instance, a Community Action director held over 40 individual meetings with a client and sought assistance for her from 10 different agencies.

Upper Peninsula Community Action Agencies are involved in more than a dozen areas of activity to serve their clients, according to the report. These areas range from health, legal, and educational needs to employment, senior citizen, and small business loan programs.

Head Start Active

One of the more popular Community Action programs has been Head Start where enrollment in summer and year round programs has totaled 2,689 for the two year period. All children in the program received medical examinations and those with urgent dental problems were assisted.

Another 1,701 children from low income families who were not enrolled in the Head Start program also received dental care through special programs initiated by the Community Action offices or through the cooperation of the CAAs with other groups in the region. The CAA dental care program was initiated because no public funds are available for dental care for indigent children except in emergency situations.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps program, which has been in operation for one year, enrolled 450 needy students and 75 high school drop-outs in work experience programs, the CAA report noted. Each Community Action Agency assists Northern Michigan University in operating the UPCAP-funded program with referrals and counseling.

Established in the fall of 1965, with the assistance of UPCAP, the six CAAs are nonprofit corporations. About 80 per cent of their funding comes from the federal government through the Office of Economic Opportunity with the remaining 20 per cent provided by local in-kind contributions.

Local Board Controls

Each Community Action Agency is governed by a committee of about 50 area residents, with at least one-third of their membership coming from the low-income segment of the economy it serves. These committees provide various advisory and service contributions to the CAAs without compensation.

Community Action Directors serving the Upper Peninsula include Ray La Porte, Menominee - Delta - Schoolcraft CAA; John Buckbee, Alger-Marquette CAA; Thomas Vizanko, Gogebic-Ontonagon CAA; Carol Kalnbach, Acting Director, Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac CAA; Daniel Bonetti, Dickinson-Iron CAA; and Edward Hauswirth, Acting Director, Baraga-Houghton-Keweenaw CAA.

In addition to the directors, each CAA has several VISTA volunteers and area representatives located in rural areas to serve isolated clients.

Russian Jubilee

The Communist government of Russia is 50 years old this month and the Soviet Union is making a great jubilee in honor of the event.

It has a lot to celebrate about and much to be proud about. It is the second greatest nation in the world and it has achieved wonders in 50 years of growth which impress knowledgeable Americans as certainly as they impress our Russian cousins.

Some Americans wonder how Russians, with all their advance in space exploration and other sophisticated scientific achievement, can accept and cheer the Soviet restrictions and living conditions. Ranged with those enjoyed by Americans they're backward. But ranged against the life of the Russian people under the Tsars they are a miracle of advance into modernity and plenty.

And, it was significant that as Russia opened its celebration of its golden jubilee, for the first time since Lenin seized control of the country from the Kerensky government that followed the last Tsar, Nicholas II, the primary emphasis in the Soviety economy will be placed upon improving the living standard of the Russian people.

At the time of the Russian revolution during World War I the nation was a semi-Oriental despotism, its economy retarded and relying heavily upon the labors of a serflike peasantry, despite the great natural resources of the country.

To have united Russia's many people into a nation, even through the savage ruthlessness of the Stalin years when millions of kulaks were killed in enforcing collectivized farming, and to have brought it to a place where it shares top position in scientific stature, military might and world leadership is a historic achievement.

Its great failure has not been in the lesser supply of automobiles for its people than in America, but in matters of spirit. Its people are not nearly as free as Americans or those of most of the free world. A tyranny has enabled Russia in only 50 years to have wrought such an enormous change in its huge domain and now that communist collar is being relaxed a bit, Georgi Malenkov wasn't liquidated when he fell from power as Stalin's successor. Shoe-pounding, irrepressible Nikita Khrushchev was put aside and the lives on. It would have been unthinkable in the Stalin era.

And Stalin's daughter, Svetlana, lives in the United States and writes that her father was surrounded by wicked men, like Beria, the exterminator. Such tag ends of the national story put things in focus for history. The daughter of one of the great architects of modern Russia is a sort of fugitive from the life values which her father helped create.

A great fact of the jubilee is that Russia can give its people more butter and automobiles while keeping up its great commitment to military hardware. Chairman Leonid Brezhnev of the Soviet Communist Party says that Russia will continue to give North Vietnam whatever military help it needs until the United States takes its military forces out of South Vietnam.

The Johnson Administration has been indicating that Russia is friendly, after a fashion, to the United States, but embarrassingly committed to her communist ally, North Vietnam. In this situation the United States has been increasing its war pressures on North Vietnam to make her settle, on U. S. terms, with Russia acquiescing. But Brezhnev now tells the world that this isn't so, and some of our European allies were saying it even earlier. If Brezhnev is to be believed at face value, the United States cannot hope for Russian acquiescence in a defeat of South Vietnam.

Thus the U. S. stands in relationship to Russia on the latter's 50th communist birthday. As the younger, harder, more disciplined nation, Russia is capable of more hardships in struggle for its national goals, and they are set by a ruling clique of the Communist Party and not by an evolutionary democratic process of public will, as in the United States. The communist revolution still is underway, just as our American revolution for freedom still is underway. Hopefully, the young Russians will enlarge their concepts of freedom to make communism more respectful of personal liberties, but the view of this matter from Moscow is not nearly as encouraging as it is from Chicago.

4 Primary Wins A Must: Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has told some Republican leaders he thinks he'll have to win all of the first four presidential primaries next year to keep alive his chance for the GOP presidential nomination.

In discussions with Republican governors whose support he has been seeking, the former vice president has made it clear he thinks only a surge in the primaries will make him a top contender in a convention he has predicted will be wide open.

The first four primaries include New Hampshire on March 12, Wisconsin on April 2, Indiana on May 7 and Nebraska on May 14. Two later primaries fall on May 28 in Oregon and June 4 in South Dakota.

In the first four of these contests, Nixon is regarded as holding an early lead over Michigan Gov. George Romney and others whose names may be on the ballot. Romney is a certain entrant in New Hampshire if he tosses his hat into the ring at a scheduled Nov. 18 Michigan meeting.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who wants his state's favorite-son designation, has said he will act to keep his name off the New Hampshire ballot. But a write-in campaign is being organized for him that could take votes away from Nixon.

Unless he changes his mind, Reagan will not sign the necessary disclaimer of presidential candidacy intention to get off the ballot in Wisconsin. This could spur the conservative vote and give Romney a chance to top the balloting.

A small group is working for alternative to Reagan in Indiana, where Nixon's campaign manager has said his candidate's name will be put on the ballot. Romney may pass up Indiana and, unless he changes his mind, make only token campaign appearances in Nebraska.

If he could top the balloting in four states, Nixon evidently figures he could sustain a setback in Oregon and still maintain his momentum toward the nomination.

Politicians agree it is too early to chart the likely winner in Oregon. They feel, however, that as a West Coast governor, Reagan will have strong support in the state. Romney's strength there is untested.

Nixon carried Oregon, along with New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Indiana, Nebraska and South Dakota in his losing 1960 race for the presidency with John F. Kennedy. But eight years have made some changes that are difficult for the political strategists to compute.

Any primary sweep by Nixon would be calculated to erase the "can't win" label pinned on him after his 1962 defeat for governor in California. It also might influence party moderates to take a fresh look at where Nixon stands on the issues.

One GOP governor—who lists himself as a moderate but has withheld commitment to any candidate—said if Nixon wins the primaries and torpedoes Romney's chances, the moderates might well line up behind the former vice president as an alternative to Reagan.

Italy Is Country With Interest For Everybody

(This is the 10th in a series of articles by Donald Miller, who spent 14 months traveling in Europe and attending the University of Zurich.)

By DONALD E. MILLER

Italy, the country which invented and perfected la dolce vita, has something for everyone — art, beauty, history, pizza, sunshine and sex.

That's one side of the coin. On the other you might find, as I did, seasick tourists, flooded hotels, and misguided motorboats. I'm getting ahead of my story, though.

Let's start at the beginning.

There must be a thousand towns for the perfect introduction to Italy, but for me there is only one: Positano, a small fishing village south of Naples or the ruggedly beautiful Amalti coast.

Colorful Village

The blue Mediterranean laps on its two beaches. Its houses, a riot of red, orange, yellow, pink, and white, glisten brightly in the warm Italian sun.

There isn't much to do in Positano. This is part of its charm. You spend most of your days sun-bathing, swimming, walking, eating and sleeping.

There's lots of activity close by, however, for Positano is near most of the tourist attractions of southern Italy: Amalfi and Ravello, Pompeii and Herculaneum, Capri and Ischia and Naples.

Grotto At Capri

Though I was pleased by Naples, awed by Amalfi's beauty and impressed by Pompeii's history, my most vivid memories are of the famous Blue Grotto of Capri.

The Grotto is a natural cave carved out of the rock coastline of Capri by the timeless pounding of the tide. The light in the grotto is a marvelous, iridescent blue because of light refraction. The Grotto is one of the outstanding tourist attractions in Europe.

But there's a catch. The approach is by water—and the water is often choppy, even on calm days. This means half the tourists visiting the Grotto are sea-sick.

It takes four hours to go by train from Naples to Rome. Naples is hustling, bustling, booming and happy—a thriving commercial metropolis of active, vibrant people. Rome is the city of the Caesars and the Forum and of a timeless serenity which lends it an air of enchantment.

Booted Out Of Hotel

Still and all, Rome was more exciting in its own way for me than Southern Italy. In the middle of the night, I was booted out of a hotel there for causing a flood.

It all started when I returned one evening to my seventh-class hotel. (This hotel was so cheap that it has been ignored in the Rome section of "Furope on Five Dollars a Day.") Before going to sleep, I decided to take a bath.

Soon I noticed that the sink near the tub was clogged and that as the level of the water in the bath rose, so did the level in the sink, until finally the sink was overflowing. I tried to stop the overflow, but couldn't and in slight desperation decided I'd have to shave and run before anyone would notice the mess. But I fell asleep in the tub, and when I finally woke up, I looked thunderstruck at the floor; it was covered by four or five inches of water.

'Get Out,' He's Told

Before I could think of what to do I heard a violent pounding on the door. I jumped out of the tub and put on my clothes over my wet body.

I opened the door and stood face-to-face with the owner of the hotel, a tall, unshaven man in a towering rage. "Get out of this hotel!"

And so I did, after giving him a piece of my mind.

Venice is as dreamy and romantic a city as you will ever see. Sleek gondolas glide effortlessly along the canals in the daytime, charming those who ride in them and those watching from the shore.

In the evening, if you can afford it, they come equipped with tenors, accordions and torchlights. For those that can't afford it, there is St. Mark's Square, where three orchestras compete with each other to entertain tourists with the strains of "Fascination," "April in Portugal," and "Arrivederci Roma." Schmaltzy? Maybe—but in Venice it seems incredibly romantic.

Three Ways To Travel

To travel in Venice, you go by water. You can go by gondola, which is charming, exciting—and fairly expensive; by the vaporetti, or passenger motorboats run by the city, which are not so romantic but are cheap, and by renting a motorboat, piloting it yourself and seeing Venice on your own.

My boat was a huge, unwieldy affair, which I nicknamed the Titanic. At the back were a small motor and steering gear, and on the bottom were little puddles of water; the Titanic was obviously not leakproof. One look at her though, and I knew we were meant for each other.

We were a curious pair, the Titanic and I, on the Grand Canal. We were the sightseers, but everybody was looking at us.

I thought it was because we were such a good-looking pair, but then I saw we were going to collide with a gondola. I panicked, but just before colliding I managed to turn off the motor.

We bumped, the gondolier swore and I lost my sunglasses.

A few miles farther down the Grand Canal, we got too close to a vaporetti, and a huge wall of water came over the side of the boat, soaking us. I also lost my camera. It was time, I decided, to take the Titanic home.

Get Ticket From Officer

But home was far away, and my hour's rental fee was running out. I set the Titanic at full speed, but even so, we were creeping. Then I took a canal—the Ria Nuovo—which I knew was a shortcut, but didn't realize it was reserved for public transportation. I got a tongue-lashing from a policeman on a bridge—and a ticket. He told me to "Pull over," which I did after no end of trouble.

So ended my adventure in Venice and Italy.

Bridge experts use numerous special artificial conventions for one reason and one reason only. That reason is that they want to win, and they know that they can't win without them. Everyone needs an ace showing method. Blackwood is the most popular but there are others that have one thing in common. Each one is better than no convention at all.

In response to no-trump, we all use some artificial set of responses, and against no-trump we need some artificial method to get into the bidding.

The most popular of these is the Landy convention, named after Alvin Landy, the man who ran the American Contract Bridge League for the last 20 years. National tournaments aren't going to be the same without Alvin around to keep things going and to keep everybody happy, or at least as happy as possible.

The Landy convention is a simple one. Specifically, when an opponent opens one notrump, you bid two clubs to show both major suits. In the back-in position you don't need much of a hand to make this bid.

The Landy convention made it possible for today's North to reopen safely after East's no-trump was passed around to him. South responded with two spades and proceeded to make four odd with some mild help from the defense.

Declarer won the club lead with his jack, returned to dummy with the ace and led a low heart. East rose with the king and proceeded to play ace and one spade. South won in his hand, led another trump to dummy's king, ruffed East's ace of hearts, discarded one diamond on the king of clubs and finally conceded one diamond trick.

A—Bid two spades. Your partner is marked with some spades and should know that you can't have much of a spade suit. You did not overcall at your first turn.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of passing one no-trump doubled, West runs to two clubs. North and East pass. What do you do now?

NEW YORK (AP) —Directors of General Motors Corp. Monday declared a year-end dividend of $1.25 per share on its common stock, compared with $1.50 for the same period last year.

This brings total 1967 payments to $3.80, compared with $4.55 last year.

Problems related to agriculture, forestry, recreation, industry, transportation, education, government, and other economic and social programs in the Upper Peninsula were discussed at the wartime and post-war planning conference held at the city hall in Escanaba recently.

On account of the unusual demand for pennies since November 1, due to war taxes, there is a shortage of pennies in the city. Children were urged to bring their pennies to the banks.

Ann Landers

Reassurance Need; Not Horror Tales

Dear Ann Landers: My wife is 22, in excellent health and is expecting our first child in about six months. Everything was fine until her mother began to scare her to death with stories about labor. She told my wife that her own labor was so excruciating that she lost her voice for two days because she screamed so much. She also told her she had bitten her lips so hard that the cuts didn't heal for three weeks.

Last night my mother-in-law talked my wife into having a caesarean instead of a natural birth. My own mother says my mother-in-law is crazy and that she should stop filling my wife's head with rubbish. My wife says if she can escape the agonies of labor by having a caesarean, why not? I don't know what to say. — EXPECTANT FATHER

Dear Ex: A caesarean is a major operation and no obsetrician will perform it unless there is a medical reason. Merely to escape labor is not a medical reason.

Mother-in-law is a generation or two behind the times. Ask your wife's doctor to tell her about the help that will be available during labor. She needs reassurance, not horror stories.

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago, when I was 12, I wrote you a letter and asked how to be popular. I felt like the ugliest and dumbest person in the whole world. When I received your answer I was really mad at you. Your reply was so cornball that I wanted to write again and ask you to send me a nickel because I felt I had wasted the stamp.

Two weeks later I found your letter stuck in a book. (I thought I had thrown it out.) I read it again. You wrote, "The way to have a friend is to BE one. If you want to be interesting to others you must be INTERESTED in others — and show it." Suddenly I wasn't mad any more. It made sense. I decided to try it.

I forced myself to smile and speak to people I had ignored for years. I discovered a lot of nifty kids all over the place. I thought, "Gee, they have changed." But I came to realize that I was the one who had changed. Pretty soon I wasn't thinking about my ugliness and my dumbness any more. I was thinking about how neat it was to be friendly. After a while I didn't feel ugly or dumb anymore.

So now, I am writing to say "thank you" and to ask you to print my letter. If it worked for me it can work for others. When I get a few dollars ahead I am going to send you a nice gift to show my appreciation. You changed my life. — THE NEW ME

Dear New You: Your letter was a beautiful expression of appreciation and I am grateful. As for a gift — I never discourage giving because I know that giving does as much for the giver as for the receiver. So, if you want to do something nice for me, put a couple of dollars in an envelope and send it to your local Heart Fund.

LANSING (AP) — Former Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski was unanimously reelected Monday as chief judge of the Michigan Court of Appeals. Judge John W. Fitzgerald was re-elected chief judge pro tempore.

The nine members of the State Appeals Court made the choices. Both terms are for three years.

Spray Hearing Set On Friday

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Department said today it would honor a temporary restraining order and put off chemical spraying in Berrien county pending further court action.

The State Court of Appeals last Friday issued the restraining order against the department from spraying 2,000 acres in the Chikaming Township area with the chemical Dursban for Japanese beetle control.

[illegible] Circuit Court Judge Paul Adams Sederquist in an ex-emplification of these problems.

He is the supervisor of Wells Township in Delta County, which is the most populous township in the county and which will soon have an assessed valuation considerably larger than that of the City of Escanaba. This results from industrial growth, but there is a revolution in residence underway in the township too, which has transformed it from a farming area to the fastest growing and richest suburb of Escanaba.

Few Farmers Left

"I don't think," says Supervisor Sedenquist, who is also chairman of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, "that there are 10 families dependent upon farming in the township now." The township had 3,400 population in the 1960 census and I bet it'll be 4,000 in 1970 and maybe more," said Sedenquist. The valuation is between $6 million and $7 million now and he expects it to triple at least in the next few years.

When Sedenquist became supervisor 19 years ago the township had a valuation of $2 million. "But real estate values are changing and now they're going up another big jump, based on valuations related to prices in recent sales of property. We used to use the figure $10 per square foot of building cost in residences, but I don't think that $15 a foot will cover it now for residences."

Values Soar

"Land values have all gone up. A lot used to cost a couple hundred dollars and you can't touch one for that today. We figure in assessing to start with a $400 basic value on any forty acres of land and then to add to other values.

"The people who live in cities and earn good wages kill you in the country with the prices that they'll pay for land. They buy up old farms for hunting camps and the values that their spending creates kills you.

"Our residential growth is active. Soo Hill was nothing a few years ago and now it's the newest residential area we have. I won't be so popular when the valuations group because of what the state has done. If people pay $20,000 for a house, I have to put down $10,000 valuation. I don't even have to appraise it. (Under Michigan's 1963 property is assessed for taxes at half its cash value.)

Where Headed?

"Where are property values going? I don't know. A house used to be worth up to $5,000 and now they cost up to $50,000 and at that figure they should go on the tax roll at $25,000.

"I tell the young people, I don't feel sorry for you; you're living on a present day income. I feel sorry for your parents who are living on Social Security.' When I say that the young don't say anything.

"You ask where county government (reform) is going and I don't know what to say. There is no definite plan. Bill Dennison (executive secretary of the Michigan Association of Supervisors) says that there is no answer yet to the application of the one-man, one-vote that we now have in congressional elections to county government. He says: 'Who is going to change the constitution so that the supervisor is not a member of the county board?'

"There are only 260 people in Bay de Noc Township and only 290 in Fairbanks Township and I'll bet that there are between 3,600 and 3,800 in Wells Township today and yet each township has one vote in the county board of supervisors.

"I think that we are going to county assessors; we already have to have a county tax department. The supervisor is the legal assessing officer in the townships, but he couldn't handle the taxes today without the county tax department."

Of public knowledge of county government Sedenquist said "I couldn't find 25 people on the street in Escanaba who know anything about county government. It will be very difficult to eliminate township government because local officials are very reluctant to let go of anything. We should try to keep representative government, but the more consolidation we have the less the individual citizen has to say. We have 27 members on the Delta County Board of Supervisors and that's too big. It's too hard to make a decision.

"I said that if we cut the county board to 10 men the cost will be about the same—$8,000 to $10,000 a year—because we would need more meetings of the board; but we would probably have better representation."

Local Gov't.

"As we get bigger units of government it becomes more difficult to communicate to the people and to get their support for government project. Baldwin Township voted extra millage for roads because its people knew about the needs, but when we go to the whole county for such aid we get turned down.

"The state is going to require qualified persons for county offices eventually. We have got to get away from sympathy or good fellowship bums for government. There can't be that in county government; we have got to enforce the rules.

"They are reassessing Wells Township and checking recent sales of property to establish values and I'm supposed to add $600,000 on real estate—not new buildings — just adjustments. It will apply in 1968 and no one would have less than about $300 added if it were spread across the board. Our township rate on fall (county) taxes is the same as in the city (Escanaba).

"Lots of our people came from farms and they don't like city cramp, but give us 10 years of industrial growth and we'll be like the rest of them; we'll lose our open spaces."

The most sensitive area which has grown up in the suburban townships is their relationship with the cities. Sedenquist always favors letting private enterprise do what it can and have government do only what no one else will do. Like having a privately operated nursing home instead of a county-owned facility; letting the private enterprisers provide the ambulance services, making the City of Escanaba bear most of the cost of maintaining an airport that serves the entire county.

His position is a popular one in the township and he has wide support, but Escanaba city councilmen, for contrast are much more pressured by city residents for services like the ambulance, nursing homes, the airport, etc. Most councilmen seem to feel that there are gray areas where private provision for some vital services is inadequate and that these are proper areas for government action.

Salaried

Charles A. Senedquist was born in Ford River Oct. 31, 1905, the son of Nels Sedenquist, head filer of the Ford River Lumber Co. Mill, who was born in Sweden. (His mother was born in Germany.)

Sedenquist worked for the Johnson Lumber Co. when he was 13, went farming on the farm of his mother's father, Michael Liedtke, on 80 acres, which he has expanded to 280 and is going to plant in trees. He farmed from 1912 to 1950, served on the Wells Township School Board for more than 15 years and on the Wells Township Board for 19 years.

He entered politics to oppose construction of a township recreation building "because we needed schools more." He's the only salaried ($4,200 a year) township supervisor in the Upper Peninsula.

THE DEMANDS upon the county supervisors are new and varied. Here's Supervisor Charles Sedenquist in Washington, D.C., before the Capitol, to testify in a pleading of the City of Escanaba before the Federal Aviation Administration for more federal aid to develop the Escanaba Airport for jet aircaft traffic. Gas Seeps From Well; Evacuate 6 Square Miles

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Some 150 families were evacuated from a six-square mile area of rural Macomb County today after natural gas from a newly drilled well seeped through underground gravel formations and bubbled up in some home and farm water wells.

A spokesman for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which was drilling the well, said it may be two or three days before the families can return.

He said the gas, odorless in its natural state, was nontoxic, but inflammable when it mixed with air and confined.

He termed the evacuation precautionary.

The families, all from isolated homes or farms, were evacuated from an area about 10 miles north of Mount Clemens, near 29-mile road.

Engineers were at work at dawn making up barrels of mud to form a protective wall in the shaft of the well. It was a break in this wall at a depth of 500 feet that caused the gas to leak into the rock and gravel formation.

Michigan Consolidated struck gas in the area last spring and has drilled five wells in an effort to determine the boundary of the new field.

Three of the wells have produced gas. The latest is about 2,800 feet deep, the company said, and its crew apparently went through a layer of rock and gravel which connects with some home and farm water wells.

The company said evacuees were put up in nearby hotels and motels and that some 50 company employes, state policemen and workers from other gas companies were canvassing the area for further seepage.

"The problem is not new to gas well drillers and means are readily available to correct it," the Michigan Consolidated spokesman said.

Gas from wells drilled in Michigan is used to supplement the bulk of the company's supply which comes by pipeline from the southwestern United States and from Canada.

Fund Drive Short

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The 1968 United Fund drive at Grand Rapids collected a record amount but fell short of its $2.1 million goal, campaign chairman Edsko Hekman announced today. The campaign closed with $1.96 million pledged or collected, for 93.5 per cent of the goal. Last year, with a one-week extension, the campaign raised $1.92 million.

Elmer Linjalas Honored On Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Linjala of West Rock were honored on Sunday, Nov. 5 with a silver wedding anniversary open-house party held at the Rock Lions clubhouse from 2-9 p. m. Over 300 guests attended.

Elmer Linjala and Ellen Heino were married in Escanaba on Nov. 21, 1942. Their attendants were Esther and Hans Hallinen and Toini and Reino Niemela. They lived in Negaunee for the first five years of their marriage and then bought a farm in West Rock where they have been dairy farming since.

The three tiered square anniversary cake was decorated with pale yellow roses and topped with a "25". A centerpiece of gold, bronze and white mums, adorned the buffet styled lunch table.

Gold, white and silver streamers and white bells decorated the clubhouse and the honored couple received gifts and a purse in honor of the occasion.

Attending the party were their three children, Nancy at home, Edward of Houghton and Mrs. Diane Schau and son Aaron of Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Linjala, Elmer's parents. The benediction will be given by Rev. Robert Selberg.

Hubbard Seeks Pay Hike Today

DEARBORN AP — Mayor Orville Hubbard seeks a 13th term, plus a pay raise and a lengthening of his term today in a city election that is the only balloting of significant interest in the state in this off year.

The 64-year-old Hubbard is opposed in the nonpartisan election by Charles J. Nemeth, a realtor and perennial candidate who vows "to break the Hubbard political machine and give the city back to the people."

Hubbard's present salary of $17,500 was raised last year to $25,000 effective Jan. 2, 1968.

A proposed charter amendment would tack another $2,000 onto that and also raise councilmen's pay from $2,000 to $3,000.

Another amendment would lengthen the mayor's term and those of city councilmen to four years from the current two.

Another feature of the race has Hubbard's son John running for his first term on the council. Hubbard has refused to endorse his son or even pose for pictures with him, saying it would be unfair to his slate.

$38,394 Request Approved For '68 Head Start

A request for $38,394 to finance 1968 Head Start programs at Menominee, Rock and Manistique was approved by the Menominee - Delta - Schoolcraft Community Action Governing Board at its quarterly meeting Saturday in Escanaba.

In other action, the board passes a resolution urging Cong. Reports were heard from area representatives and VISTA workers.

Kiwanians Hear Humorous Reading By College Dean

Escanaba Kiwanians were treated to a humorous reading of some of the writings of Robert Benchley at their Monday meeting.

Dr. William Butt, academic dean at the Bay de Noc Community College, has become a student of the humorist, and his colorful rendition of Benchley's writings were extremely entertaining.

Benchley was born in 1887 in Worchester, Mass., Butt related, and furthered his education at Harvard. After some years in newspaper work, Benchley became a drama critic for Life magazine in 1920, held the same position with the New Yorker in 1940, before going to Hollywood.

Butt's first reading was an exerpt from a book entitled "Inside Benchley", and was called "What College Did To Me". In the chapter, Benchley stated his belief that no student should go to class before 11 a. m. and finish no later than 2 p. m. It also spoke of his schedule and study hours.

The second reading was Mr. Benchley's most famous essay, entitled "The Treasurer's Report", from the book "The Treasurer's Report and Other Aspects of Community Singing." It was equally humorous.

Jackie On Tour; Feeds Elephants

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy toured the ornate royal palace of Cambodia today, then standing there under a gilded parasol in the tropical sun gingerly fed bananas and sugar cane to two sacred elephants.

Escorted by ruling Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the widow of President Kennedy paid a courtesy visit to the prince's mother Sisowath Kossamak who is a "symbol of monarchy" in this nation's complicated court etiquette.

The visit to the palace with its spired roofs, ornate golden decorations brightly painted state rooms was a field day for photographers who have been waiting to catch Mrs. Kennedy against the colorful Cambodian backgrounds.

Standing on the palace balcony beside her, the prince yelled down at the swarming photographers to give the elephants room, and said, "You might upset them."

The prince, whose press is daily spiced with accusations of American "criminal imperialism," again put aside such sentiments in a gesture of goodwill toward the late president's memory.

He even proudly presented his 7-year-old granddaughter, Princess Sisowath Moni Kosoma, dressed in a bright pink tutu, who did a few classical ballet steps for Mrs. Kennedy.

As gifts to take home for her children, Caroline and John Jr., Mrs. Kennedy received a beautiful set of Cambodian dolls in various costumes.

In return, Mrs. Kennedy presented the prince's mother a silver framed photograph of herself, President Kennedy, John Jr., and Caroline taken in an informal atmosphere at their home at Hyannisport, Mass., a few months before the president's death.

The feeding of the royal elephants came after a brief formal reception in the long gilded throne room.

Jet Burns; All Aboard Escape

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Federal investigators are probing the fire-blackened wreckage of a Boeing 707 jetliner that ran off a runway Monday night at Greater Cincinnati Airport. All 36 persons aboard escaped serious injury and only two were hospitalized.

The damaged plane was resting across a road at the western edge of the airport in nearby Florence, Ky. Its nose was rammed against a muddy embankment 300 feet from the end of the runway.

Part of the airplane's right wing was torn off and other wreckage lay scattered nearby.

Officials credited the pilot, Capt. V. Matheny of Long Beach, Calif., with averting a serious accident after the plane, Flight 159, went off the east-west runway while starting to Los Angeles with 29 passengers and seven crewmen.

Dope Raids Net Four At Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Three men and one woman today faced examinations on charges stemming from narcotics raids in Lansing and East Lansing that netted police an estimated $170,000 in marijuana and LSD.

William E. Kahl, 27, formerly of Teaneck, N.J., was jailed in lieu of $12,500 bond Monday following arraignment in Lansing Municipal Court. He was charged with sale and possession of narcotics.

Appearing with Kahl and charged with sale and possession of narcotics was Elizabeth M. Washburn, 24, formerly of Minnesota. She was jailed in lieu of $7,000 total bond.

Examination date was not set for Kahl and Miss Washburn.

Robert W. Meyer, 22, of Elkhart, Ind., was jailed Monday after arraignment in East Lansing Municipal Court on two counts of possession of narcotics. His bond was set at $7,000.

Ronald Bortree, 21, of State College, Pa., a Michigan State University student, was charged with Meyer on one count of possession and bail was set at $5,000.

Police said neither Meyer nor Bortree had posted bond and there had been no indication either would do so. Their examination was set for Dec. 11.

Authorities said Kahl had been facing two other charges connected with narcotics, had left Lansing for Canada and was recently deported from that country.

He and Miss Washburn were arrested in a Lansing raid Sunday after marijuana allegedly was sold to a State Police undercover agent. Police said they recovered some 25 pounds of marijuana and the LSD caps and liquid.

Police arrested Bortree and Meyer in East Lansing with some 20 pounds of marijuana in a car, said Donald Huber, assistant Ingham County prosecutor.

College Pickets Aim At Napalm

By The Associated Press

Hundreds of students picketed at the University of Chicago and at the Berkley campus of the University of California Monday, protesting on campus job interviews by Dow Chemical Co., maker of Napalm jelly used in Vietnam bombing.

Campus police said 350 took part at Berkley.

Some 500 were estimated in the crowd at the University of Chicago. Both demonstrations were described as orderly.

The Chicago demonstration was limited chiefly to an hour of anti-war speeches, followed by another hour of picketing.

A rival "recruiting booth" in the form of a table with antiwar literature and posters of the late Cuban revolutionary Ernesto Che Guevara was set up by students to get signatures for an antiwar, anti-Dow petition.

Employe recruitment by the large chemical producer has been the target of protests at a number of universities.

Despite the protests, Dow officials claim the number of requests for job interviews from college students is up 25 per cent this year. Dow representatives interviewed 13 students at the Chicago university Friday.

Rally speaker Prof. Hans Morgenhau noted political scientist, called the war "useless and politically aimless." He said, "the United States is killing for the sake of killing."

The demonstration went off without incident, except for booing and hissing during Morgenhau's speech by a cluster of graduate business students. Only a few policemen were on hand.

Lansing Shelves City Income Tax

LANSING (AP) — A city income tax was temporarily shelved in Lansing when Mayor Max Murningham voted against it Monday night to break a 4-4 tie vote of the City Council.

Murningham had said he would vote against the tax if there was a council split or only a 5-3 margin in favor.

The mayor said he thought there should be solid council approval of such a vital issue.

The Lansing tax proposal, however, is expected to be revived at a later date.

The tax would be one per cent for city residents and one half per cent for non-residents working in the city under the uniform city income tax act.

The Lansing council previously had approved a five mill property tax cut if the income tax passed.

Deep South Is Frosted; Inch Of Snow At Soo

By The Associated Press

Wintry squalls dumped more snow on parts of the Great Lakes region today while earmuff-and-mitten weather again chilled most of the country east of the Rockies during a state and local election day.

Three inches of snow fell at Buffalo, N.Y. during the night, thickening the snow blanket there to 7 inches before dawn. Sault Ste. Marie, in eastern Upper Michigan, measured another inch of snow, giving it a 4-inch total.

Generally, however, new accumulations were mere flurries compared with the knee-deep snows which pasted sections of Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York State Sunday and early Monday.

The cold snap which pushed the mercury down to record lows in 10 states Monday again frosted parts of the Deep South. The temperatures settled to 30 degrees at Atlanta before daylight.

Readings of 12 above were reported at both Lander and Laramie, Wyo., and temperatures in the 20s and low 30s were scattered eastward to the Middle Atlantic states.

Battle Creek Skids From Top Grid Spot

By The Associated Press

Bay City Central parlayed a victory over Pontiac Central and Battle Creek Central's loss to Kalamazoo Central Friday into the first place spot in the weekly Associated Press Class A high school football ratings.

Bay City beat Pontiac 26-6 while Kalamazoo nipped Battle Creek 7-6 to snap the Bearcats' 27-game winning streak.

"We knew we had a chance to move up if anything happened to Battle Creek," said Elmer Engle, Bay City coach. "Every youngster wants to play with a team that's No. 1"

Battle Creek fell to third place behind Detroit Denby in the balloting by AP's panel of sportswriters and sportscasters.

Kalamazoo moved into the No. 10 spot, ousting Birmingham Brother Rice, which lost to fourth-ranked Class C power Dearborn Divine Child.

Saginaw Buena Vista held its top spot in the Class B rankings. Grand Rapids Central fell from the top 10 and unbeaten Bicksburg moved in.

Detroit St. Thomas, which beat Orchard Lake St. Mary Sunday, moved in to the Class C rankings, still dominated by Galesburg-Augusta. St. Mary fell to the No. 11 spot.

There were no major changes in Class D where Potterville remains in first place.

Balloting is based on 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc., all the way down to one point for a 10th place vote.

CLASSIFIED ADS COST LITTLE BUT DO A BIG JOB

TWO TOP football players at Gladstone this season are pictured above. Mike Maniaci, top, 5 foot 10 inch, 225 pound senior, completed his third year as a defensive tackle and also saw service as a fullback and center as the Braves won five of eight games this fall. Bill Johnson, bottom, 5 foot 10 inch, 170 pound senior, is regarded as one of the school's greatest linebackers. He averaged 13 tackles per game through the season, blocked three kicks and intercepted two passes. He also played right halfback on offense. (Delta Studio Photos)

Southern Cal Threatened By Eager Oregon Beavers In Big West Coast Clash

By The Associated Press

The Southern California Trojans have maintained their huge lead in The Associated Press' major-college football poll. But upcoming this Saturday is a meeting with the giant-killing Oregon State Beavers, eager for another upset.

"They're going to have their hands full," predicts Dee Andros, the Beavers' coach, referring to the big one at Corvallis, Ore.

Purdue and UCLA already have had their hands full with Oregon State. The Beavers knocked off the Boilermakers 22-14 on Oct. 21 when Purdue held second place in the AP poll.

UCLA, too, was in the No. 2 position until Oregon State rose up and tied the Bruins 16-16 last Satuday.

The setback dropped UCLA into fourth place in the latest voting by a national panel of 40 sports writers and broadcasters.

Southern California, 8-0 after trouncing California 31-12, accumulated 399 points, collecting all except one first-place vote plus one for second. Fifth-ranked Purdue was named the top team by one selector.

Tennessee, a 38-0 victor over Tampa, replaced UCLA in second place while North Carolina State, which beat Virginia 30-8, also advanced one position to third.

Purdue, 6-1 after walloping Illinois 42-9, moved up one place as did sixth-ranked Indiana. The Hoosiers, 7-0, edge Mwisconsin, 14-9.

Wyoming, Oklahoma, Notre Dame and Houston round out the Top Ten in that order. Wyoming and Notre Dame advanced one place each while Oklahoma and Houston replaced Georgia and Colorado in the ratings.

Oklahoma defeated Colorado 23-0 and Houston beat Georgia 15-14 last Saturday. The Bulldogs were ranked fifth and Colorado ninth a week ago.

Tennessee faces Tulane, North Carolina State meets Penn State, UCLA plays Washington and Purdue takes on Minnesota this Saturday.

In other games involving ranked teams, Indiana plays Michigan State, Wyoming meets New Mexico, Oklahoma faces Iowa State, Notre Dame plays Pittsburgh and Houston goes up against Memphis State.

The Top ten, with first place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8- etc. Basis.

Northland Back Retains State Scoring Lead

By The Associated Press

Though his team didn't play, Hugh Davidson's huge point total kept him the No. 1 scorer among Michigan college and university football players this week.

Davidson has 15 touchdowns for 90 points. He also has tackled an opposing ball carrier in the end zone for a safety, but National Collegiate Athletic Association rules make no provision for crediting safeties.

Holding the No. 2 spot behind Davidson is Craig Tefft of Central Michigan, with Lonnie Holton of Northern Michigan retaining the third spot. Tefft has 60 points, Holton 54.

Two others climbed up to the 54-point rung, though — Chris Clark of Alma and Karl Wilson of Olivet.

Grid Notes

NORTHWESTERN — Linebacker Ron Mied and Ray Forsthoffer and defensive back Dennis Coyne were sidelined with injuries Monday. All, however, are expected to be ready for Iowa Saturday.

IOWA — Quarterback Ed Podolak might be available for the Northwestern game. Podolak missed the Minnesota game because of a cracked rib. A decision will be made on his availability later in the week.

MICHIGAN — No new injuries were reported as the Wolverines went through a 2½ hour workout, a rarity for a Monday drill.

ILLINOIS — Guard Friyz Harms, who has missed the last three games with a leg injury, will be ready for the Michigan game. With the Illini allowing Purdue 401 yards rushing, coach Jim Valek shuffeled his defensive team by making six changes.

Indiana Pacers Lead Cage Loop

By The Associated Press

The Indiana Pacers lead the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association and the Kentucky Colonels are learning it the hard way.

The Pacers beat the Colonels a third straight time 105-95 Monday night in Louisville, Ky., for their eighth victory in 10 games and increased their lead to two games over Minnesota and Pittsburgh.

New Orleans showed its early domination of the Western Division by outscoring Oakland 136-125 in New Orleans for the Buccaneers seventh triumph against one loss.

In the only other ABA game, Denver posted a home-court victory in whipping Anaheim 121-100.

There were no National Basketball Association games scheduled.

The Detroit Pistons face New York Wednesday at Cobo Arena. periods before the Pacers opened the gap and maintained about a 10-point lead the rest of the way. Freddie Lewis finished with 33 points for the Pacers while Randy Mahaffey had 23 for Kentucky.

New Orleans spurted to an 81-59 halftime lead behind Red Robbins, who finished with 20 points. Doug Moe helped hold off Oakland in the second half and totaled 31 points.

Lavern Tart, the league's leading scorer, had 35 for the Oaks.

Denver's victory over Anaheim was sparked by a 14-point output in the second period by Wayne Hightower. The Rockets overcame a 28-27 first-quarter deficit, went ahead 53-48 at halftime and then broke the game wide open with 33 points in the third stanza.

Steve Chubin of the Amigos topped all scorers with 29 points. Lefty Thomas was high for Denver with 28 and Hightower contributed 27.

Duffy Wants To Look At Players Of Future

EAST LANSING (AP) — "We're not writing off this season," said Michigan State football Coach Duffy Daugherty, now with a 2-5 won and lost record.

"We'll keep one eye on Indiana," he promised of the game with the unbeaten Hoosiers this Saturday.

But Daugherty said he now hopes to find out who the players are he can count on for next year.

"We'll do everything we can to win our remaining games," Daugherty said. "But we want to get a good look at every sophomore and junior on the team."

A main reason for the bad showing this year, Daugherty said, is simple. "We can't stop anybody on defense."

The Spartans first lost their great defensive players of last year by graduation, he said. Then the defensive unit unit groomed to replace it was riddled by injuries.

"We have reserves playing first string now," Daugherty said.

Indiana has improved from week to week, Daugherty reported. "And they've got the momentum that comes from winning."

"We knew where they were going to run but we still couldn't stop them."

Daugherty said he thought quarterback Jimmy Raye wasn't 100 per cent up physically for the game because of his bruised ribs but still wanted to play.

The Spartans were withheld from scrimmage Monday.

"We can't afford any more injuries," said Daugherty.

The squad worked out less than an hour with most of the session devoted to a scouting report on Indiana.

Purdue Is Picked To Top Gophers

CHICAGO(AP) — This is the week they start cutting the deck to turn up No. 1 in the Big Ten title drive. The Ol' Swami, 35-16 for .686 so far, hopes to avoid the joker.

Purdue 17, Minnesota 13—An explosive offense against an awesome defense should make this one a classic as each team strives to remain unbeaten in the conference. The Gopher defense, battened down by end Bob Stein, held Iowa to 41 yards rushing last week. Led by Leroy Keyes, who has scored 15 touchdowns, fifth-ranked Purdue amassed 401 yards on the ground against Illinois. Minnesota will join the Keyes club.

Indiana 20, Michigan State 18—After whistling through seven stations, the Hoosier Sophomore Express will be hard to wave down in this one. Overpowered 21-7 by Ohio State, the Spartans will be stinging. But they more likely will get stung by the Gonsa-Isenbarger-Butcher rookie ripsaw. This marks the start of the toughest part of the sixth-ranked Hoosiers' schedule. After MSU come Minnesota and Purdue.

Michigan 20, Illinois 14—The Illini have made defensive changes after Keyes' kangaroo court. If they couldn't stop him, how can they stop Ron Johnson who has plowed 815 yards in seven games—only 69 short of Tom Harmon in 1939—and set a Big Ten record with 42 rushes against Northwestern?

Northwestern 20, Iowa 10—The Hawkeyes, without ace quarterback Ed Podolak, scared Minnesota before succumbing 10-0. He is expected back this week. The Wildcats know how to churn out yardage—that is, until they get in the shadow of the goal posts. Something down there seems to get them.

Ohio State 21, Wisconsin 12—Reverting to their traditional meat-grinder ground game, the Buckeyes tore up MSU as fullback Paul Huff ripped 117 yards and scored twice. Winless Wisconsin also will find Huff tuff.

Notre Dame 35, Pittsburgh 10—Pitt isn't the pushover it was earlier in the season. That is for most any team but the ninth-ranked Irish.

Near Nervous Breakdown

Wing Goalie Roger Crozier Quits

DETROIT (AP) — Former All-Star goalie Roger Crozier was "on the point of a nervous breakdown" when he announced his decision to quit hockey, Manager-Coach Sid Abel of the Detroit Red Wings said today.

Abel said he hoped the 25-year-old National Hockey League netminder from Brace Bridge, Ont., would reconsider his decision after a few weeks rest and would return to hockey.

"He needs a rest badly in order to keep his health and I hope that after a few weeks he will feel better and begin to think about playing hockey again," Abel said.

Crozier, who operates a summer hockey school in Brace Bridge, has no other job, although he has had business offers from several firms in recent years, a Wings spokesman said.

The little goalkeeper, who relied on his lightning quick reflexes to stop 100-miles-per-hour hockey pucks in one of the toughest jobs in professional sports, was in the second year of a four-year contract reportedly earning $25,000 to $30,000 a year.

He informed Abel of his decision to quit hockey just as Abel was about to send Crozier to the minors in a roster shakeup designed to help Detroit snap a three-game losing streak.

"I had called Roger in to tell him I was sending him to Fort Worth in the Central League," said Abel, "but he floored me before I floored him."

But Abel stressed that Crozier's decision "was not made because he was being sent to the minors. He told me he'd go anywhere if he thought it would help his play and help the Red Wings."

Crozier refused to talk with newsmen.

Abel said he was calling up goalie Roy Edwards from Fort Worth and would start him against the Pittsburgh Penguins Thursday.

"We called him up here to see what he can do," Abel said, "and we won't waste any time getting a good look."

Edwards, 30, is the top goaltender in the Central Profession Hockey League. He has given up an average of 1.33 goals per game at Fort Worth with four shutouts, including three in his first three starts, a CPHL record.

Abel said Crozier reached his decision after an all-night talk with his wife, Arlene, following a 6-4 loss to the Los Angeles Kings Sunday night.

Crozier, who has given up 18 goals in his last three games, allowed five goals in the final period in the loss to Los Angeles.

Abel said there was nothing physically wrong with Crozier but said the 5-foot-8, 160-pound goalie told him he was "at the cracking point" emotionally and had "lost confidence" in his ability to play.

Abel was especially critical of Crozier after the loss to the Kings Sunday, the second in a row to an expansion club. Crozier was in the nets when Toronto beat Detroit 9-3 Thursday and had a poor night in a 3-2 loss to St. Louis Sturday.

Alma Fullback Gets Top Honor

DETROIT (AP) — Alma fullback Jack Prince, who gained 73 yards in 10 carries and scored two touchdowns in Alma's 30-0 victory over Kalamazoo, was named MIAA back of the week Monday.

Linebacker Loren VanBevern of Olivet was named lineman of the week. He made seven solo tackles, assisted on eight others and recovered a fumble in Olivet's 22 - 0 victory over Adrian.

Sports In Brief

PURDUE — The Boilermakers came out of the 42 - 9 Illinois romp in top physical condition. Coach Jack Mollenkopf said he'll stay pat with his offensive lineup for the Minnesota game.

MINNESOTA — Regular fullback Jim Carter was back on the job and his bruised knee is okay. Carter was replaced by Maurice Forte in the Iowa game and Forte carried 27 times and gained 149 yards. Defensive back Mike Condo had a bruised hip and tackle McKinley Boston an injured knee. A decision on their availability will be made later in the week.

Brewers Offer Free Stadium, Fat TV Bundle

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A private group seeking the return of big league baseball to Milwaukee announced Monday that a locally owned expansion franchise would receive virtually free use of County Stadium for 25 years and would get a city record broadcast contract.

The Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc., which is composed of local businessmen seeking to find a replacement for the National League Braves, who departed for Atlanta after the 1965 season, made the offer in the form of a brochure summing up the package.

Under the plan, which was presented to National League owners and President Warren Giles, rent for Milwaukee County Stadium would be $1 a year for the first million paid admissions each year for the first 25. And, the seating capacity for baseball would be increased from 45,000 to 55,000.

The brochure said also that if the Brewers obtain a franchise, they will be assured a three-year radio and television pact worth $3.3 million.

All concession revenue would go to the team until the million mark in admissions is reached. Milwaukee County would receive 10 per cent of the gross after that.

On the rent proposal, the $1 would be charged for the first million paid admissions because it is a National League regulation. After the first million, the county would take five per cent of the gross ticket revenue on admissions up to 1.5 million.

The county would get seven per cent on admissions from 1.5 million to 2 million and 10 per cent on admissions over that.

The Brewers will be invited to make their presentation, along with other interested cities, when the National League owners meet Monday to discuss possible expansion to 12 teams.

Sluggers Won't Have Big Edge In World Golf

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Long ball hitters won't have much of an advantage Thursday when play opens in the 72-hole World Cup Golf Tournament at the Club de Golf Mexico.

"This is a very narrow course," said Gary Player of South Africa. "Accuracy will be more important than distance."

Martin Roesink of Holland, one of professional golf's longest hitters, was inclined to agree.

"The fairways are very narrow and it'll be easy to get in trouble," he said. "The ball carries farther at this altitude so even people who normally aren't long off the tee will be getting more distance than they would at sea level. But accuracy will be the most important thing."

Eighty golfers from 40 countries tee off Thursday morning in two-man teams to play for national prestige and personal honor in the 15th running of what used to be called the Canada Cup. Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, the kings of pro golf, are favored to repeat the team championship they won last year in Tokyo.

The park-like Club de Golf Mexico, site of the 1958 tournament, has been stretched to 7,250 yards to make the longest course ever used in the tournament.

Player, 1965 winner of the International Trophy signifying the individual championship, was pleased with the layout after 27 practice holes.

"It's a beautiful course, perhaps the most beautiful the tournament has ever been played on," he said. "But it is difficult. There are a lot of traps and I doubt that the long hitters will open up because the fairways are so narrow."

Player attracted a small gallery early Monday for his first crack at the full 18 holes. He got started so early he was back in the clubhouse by noon.

"I spent 41 hours flying here from South Africa," Player said. "I haven't adjusted to the time difference yet. I woke up about dawn and came right out."

It still was not certain that Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina, a former team and individual winner, would appear. He was reported ill in Buenos Aires. If the British Open champion does not appear, his replacement on the Argentine team will be Fidel de Luca.

Palmer and Nicklaus lead the pro-am pairings for Wednesday when they play with Miguel Aleman, former president of Mexico who is chairman of the organizing committee, and James Linen of New York, president of the International Golf Association.

Howe Gains Tie For Point Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran Gordie Howe of Detroit, belying his 39 years of age with one of his best early-season performances, has moved into a tie with Chicago's dynamic Bobby Hull in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race.

The latest statistics revealed today that Howe, six-time scoring champion, has accumulated 16 points on 10 goals and six assists. Hull, the goal - scoring pacesetter with 11, has five assists.

Howe, in his 22nd NHL season, collected four goals and one assist in last week's games.

Yvan Cournoyer of Montreal is third in the scoring derby with 14 points. He is followed by Fred Stanfield end John McKrenzie of Boston, Andy Bathgate of Pittsburgh, Dave Keon of Toronto, Jean Ratelle of New York and Alex Delvecchio of Detroit, all tied with 13 points.

Delvecchio is the leader in assists with 12.

Defenseman Ed Van Impe of Philadelphia is the circuit's bad man with 33 minutes in penalties. The Flyers also have the best goaltending record as Bernie Parent and Doug Favell have combined to yield an average of only 2.20 goals a game.

Briefly Told

Perry Pardee, Rte. 1, Gladstone, paid $7 court costs Monday after he pleaded guilty to a littering charge when arraigned before Justice Ross Davis. The complaint was signed by a U. S. Forest Service ranger. Justice Davis suspended a fine because Pardee cleaned up the litter, State Police reported.

A breaking and entering at the Soo Hill School is under investigation by State Police. Floyd Cassidy, principal, reported that a pane of glass in a rear door was broken, allowing the door to be opened. Nothing appeared to be missing, however, he told officers.

Two motorists struck deer with their automobiles Monday, State Police reported. Richard J. Foster, 23, of 331 S. 9th St., hit a deer on U. S. 2 and 41 about one mile east of Bark River and William Rae, 26, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, struck a deer on County Rd. 426 near Hendricks. Neither driver was injured.

Michigan Marine Charged In Death

HONOLULU (AP) — A 19-year-old Marine has been charged with involuntary manslaughter in the shooting death of another Marine at the Barbers point Naval Air Station Oct. 25, the Navy said Monday.

Charged in the death of Lance Cpl. James M. Heaney, 20, of Helena, Mont., was Pvt. Leo R. Felton of Mount Clemens, Mich.

An investigation of the accident is expected to be completed this week. The Navy said the two Marines were guarding a security area at the air station at the time of the incident.

Felton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant E. Felton of 38321 Foxcroft, Mount Clemens.

GLADSTONE

Gladstone Board Adopts Budget

The Gladstone Board of Education adopted an operating budget of $590,606 at its regular meeting Monday night at the James T. Jones School.

Public hearing on the budget will be held at the school at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 16.

Retirement of Harvey Larson, 1314 Dakota Ave., after 41 years of service as a custodian was announced. An appropriate recognition is being planned for early December.

An 11-point dress code was presented by the faculty and student council and was approved by the board after lengthy discussion. The student council said the code is not meant to establish financial hardships by requiring specific clothing, but to establish standards of neatness and appropriate dress.

Code Listed

Violations will be met with appropriate action. The code:

1. Shirts and blouses designed to be worn on the inside must be so worn.
2. Girls skirts and dresses are to be no shorter than two inches above the middle of the knee.
3. Sandals and moccasins will be permitted.
4. Belts are to be worn if pants have belt loops.
5. Frayed pants and sweatshirts are not to be worn in school.
6. Dress blue jeans will be permitted.
7. V-neck sweaters must be worn with either a shirt, blouse, t-shirt or dickie.
8. Socks must be worn with shoes.
9. Pert skirts and shorts will not be acceptable, bloomer dresses are not permitted.
10. No slacks are to be worn by girls during classes or school periods.
11. Collars designed to be worn down must be so worn.

The problem of students using the library as a meeting place instead of a place for reference was discussed and persons using the library for a hangout or causing a disturbance will be deprived of library privileges for a stated period.

Reports to the Board of Education were made on the recent visit of "Task Force" from Northern Michigan University. "Task Force" is a group of educators assembled under a federal program to assist schools with specified problems. The group will re-visit the school to discuss "the modern curriculum."

Report Heard

Ted Morris of Northern Michigan University discussed the Community-School concept as defined by the Mott Foundation of Flint. The Board went on record as favoring the proposal and authorized a survey to be made of the needs of the community.

Special emphasis will be placed on the diploma program, a means by which adults who have not completed high school may do so by enrolling in this evening program.

Persons from any school district in the area would be eligible to attend.

A letter will be sent to the Superintendent of the Intermediate School District on the possibility of addition of a room to the James T. Jones School for special education.

In other business, the board was informed that chemistry and physics laboratories and lecture rooms are in operation, but not completely finished; Paul Cowen, music director, was authorized to attend the Midwest Band Clinic at Chicago in December, and a request by the Band Boosters to sell stadium seats was tabled for further study.

In Memoriam

Busch

In loving memory of Walter C. Busch who passed away one year ago today, November 8, 1966.

Often a lonely heartache,
And many a silent tear.
But always a beautiful memory,
Of the one we loved so dear.

Sadly Missed By
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Coppock & Family, Mrs. Frieda Boomer & Family

Orzel, West and Manske

In loving memory of our beloved sons, Robert Orzel, Dale Manske, and Robert West who were suddenly killed 4 years ago November 7, 1963.

Surrounded by friends we are lonesome,
In the midst of our joys we are blue,
With a smile on our faces we've a heartache,
Longing dear Sons for you.
The month of November again is here,
The saddest month of all the year.
For it was on a November day,
The ones we loved were called away.
God took them home, it was his will,
But in our hearts they liveth still
Memories are treasures no one can steal
Death is a hearache no one can heal
Some may forget them, now that they're gone,
But we will remember, no matter how long.

Sadly Missed by their Parents and Families

Names On 'Junk Mail' List Sold By States

By ANTHONY DE NIGRO

NEW YORK (AP) — If you've been wondering how your name got on the latest "junk mail" list, you might ask your state motor vehicle department.

An Associated Press survey shows that most states sell their motor vehicle registration lists—at prices ranging from $70,000 in New York to $8 in West Virginia. Some apparently give them away.

One firm, R. L. Polk & Co. of Detroit, appears to be practically the only customer for the lists and uses them as what must be one of the largest reservoirs in the country for direct mail advertisers.

Polk won't say how much it pays for them—or how much it makes on them—but the survey showed it gets the bulk for a total of not much more than $500,000.

Disclosures of the sale of official public record for commercial use has stirred invasion of privacy controversies in some parts of the country. At least two citizens have gone into court about it.

Sales Routine

Most motor vehicle department officials interviewed in the survey considered the sale routine. Typical was the reaction in North Carolina, which sold Polk 2 million names and addresses for $36,000 this year.

"By law our records are open to the public unless they are specifically declared confidential and I guess that's the statute under which we've been proceeding," said Miss Foy Ingram, the North Carolina registration director.

Polk is a 97-year-old firm which also publishes 1,400 city directories. "We do not invade anyone's privacy," said Alvin Kropf, Polk's senior vice president. "As business statisticians and publishers, we gathered public information and refine and publish such facts and figures which are set out in open public records."

The AP survey found that Polk buys or trades for most of the 95 million names and addresses of auto registrants directly through the state capitols at prices apparently dependent on how much the particular state thinks its list is worth.

Michigan Gets $1,200

Polk even has the list of states which say they don't sell them. Those are Illinois, Alaska, South Dakota, Kentucky, Washington and Washington, D.C.

New York State's $70,000 a year is the highest price Polk pays for one list. California, which has the biggest motor vehicle population in the country, gets $47,000. Rural Alabama gets $52,000 while auto state Michigan gets $1,200. South Carolina charges $75. Wisconsin gets $120. All sell to Polk.

New Jersey Trades

Sometimes Polk trades for the lists. In New Jersey, for instance, Polk is the super sleuth who tracks down 400,000 parking scofflaws a year. In return, it gets the state's registration list free.

Because New Jersey law forbids the sale of auto registrations, the state motor vehicle department has been trading the lists to Polk for more than a decade. Under the arrangement, municipal courts send the state unanswered parking summonses which list only the license number of the vehicle. The state sends numbers to Polk and Polk sends back the name and address of the car's owner.

In Nebraska, Polk pays the salary of a clerk in the motor vehicles department. She sends the lists to Detroit, where the slips are alphabetized and returned to Lincoln.

Prepare Reports

Besides the auto registration list Minnesota sells to Polk, the state sells 50 to 100 lists of various types to various interests. They range from lists of dentists, doctors and restaurants to a computer printout of 210,000 boat owners—the latter for $500.

Every year since 1922, Polk has compiled a complete nationwide list of auto registrations. It uses them primarily, it says, for some 50 statistical reports sold within the automotive industry and secondarily for sale to direct mail advertisers.

Polk, a privately owned company that doesn't make public financial statements, would say only that 10 per cent of its income is derived from the registration lists. It did say, however, that the lists are expensive to the average direct mail buyer.

Suits Started

When it sells to direct mail houses, Polk actually keeps the list and mails the sample or brochure for the advertiser. The auto industry is its largest single user, principally for the mailing of multipaged color brochures at the beginning of a new model year. Other chief customers are auto accessory firms, tire and oil companies, publishing houses and newspapers.

Polk sells direct mail lists to a wide range of firms, from bankers to fertilizer manufacturers. Recently two suits were brought in connection with the state sale of the lists, one in federal court in Manhattan and the other in Superior Court in Hartford, Conn.

Both were filed on the invasion of privacy issue and both are still in litigation. They are apparently the only two court challenges of the practice of selling official records for commercial uses.

Community Aids Prison Parolees

LANSING (AP) — The State Corrections Department reports a community project is underway to help parolees and inmates of the State Prison of Southern Michigan from the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph area.

The project is patterned after a similar program sponsored for the past 18 months by the Mott Foundation to help prison inmates from the Genesee County area.

Some 200 inmates and parolees will be involved in the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph program, to start this month. General counseling service will be supplied to inmates and contact will continue after their release to aid in community adjustment and job placement.

Cooperating in the project will be the corrections department, Benton Harbor School District, State Employment Security Commission, Tri-county Community Action Commission, local YMCA and the Pace-Makers, a Benton Harbor teen group active in community affairs.

Carl Koch Head Of Ad Group

LANSING (AP)—Carl Koch, advertising manager of the Flint Journal, was elected president of the Michigan Press Advertising Managers at their 26th annual meeting over the weekend at Lansing.

He succeeds Jack Newman of the Battle Creek Enquirer and News. Jack Harris of the Greenville Daily News was named vice president.

The Lansing State Journal won first place for "best use of newspaper mat service." 'Second place went to the St. Clair County Independent Press and third to the Benton Harbor News-Palladium.

The Birmingham Eccentric placed first for "best ad idea." The Muskegon Chronicle was second and the Battle Creek Enquirer and News third.

First place for "best color ad" was awarded the Grand Rapids Press for letterpress reproduction and the Mount Pleasant Daily Times News for offset reproduction. Second in Second in the letterpress category went to the Lansing State Journal and second in offset to the Birmngham Eccentric.

The Birmingham Eccentric placed first in "best special edition." The St. Clair Independent Press was second and the Utica Daily Sentinel was third.

Purse Is Found After 24 Years

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A small brown purse belonging to the daughter of the late Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist Louis Bromfield has been found after 24 years.

The purse belongs to Miss Anne Chalmers Bromfield, who lives in Lucas, Ohio.

A workman discovered the purse when he was digging under the third floor of Hickman Hall in a renovation of the Stephens College building. Miss Bromfield completed her senior year in high school at Stephens in 1943.

Impala Custom Coupe

From Impala, world's most popular car
The silent ride of quality for '68

Now there are more good reasons than ever why people should prefer Impala. Like all regular Chevrolets, it's even further ahead for '68!

A more hushed ride
Among other things, we refined and improved everything about the ride to make it surprisingly smooth and silent. Just try it and see. You'll find that our engineers used electronic computers to pinpoint places where noises might develop, and installed a special network of rubber cushions to keep squeaks and rattles from disturbing your comfort.
We doubt that you've ever driven a car that moves so noiselessly.

The look you like best
People have always preferred Impala's looks. So for 1968 we made it even more beautiful. We gave the grille a more massive and masculine look. We gave the hood sweeping new lines and tucked the wipers neatly out of sight. We designed the taillights right into the rear bumper for a look you're sure to like.

We owe you the best
We figure we owe people more than other car makers do.
Because it was people who put us in first place in the first place, and who keep us there year after year.
We appreciate it.
